Calls to rollout London living wage in Oxford

Appeal to up city pay to cope with costs

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD leaders have backed the idea of upping the national living wage to be on par with London because of escalating rising costs of living in the city

The call comes ahead of a motion being put forward on Tuesday at a full meeting of Oxfordshire County Council to up the living wage for county council staff to fall in sync with the capital

• Oxford East MP Andrew Smith

The living wage in Oxford is £8 25 an hour and £9 40 in London

Oxford East MP Andrew Smith said "There is a strong case for the level of the living wage in Oxfordshire to be closer to or the same as the London level"

It is set by the Living Wage Foundation a charity which campaigns for salaries to balance better with costs

Mr Smith added "This is something which the Living Wage Foundation should definitely look at"

The Living Wage Foundation declined to comment on whether it is something they would consider

Oxford City Council already pays its employees 85 per cent of the London living wage, meaning employees get £9 21 per hour

> Living in the county is on par with living costs in London

Council leader Bob Price said, "This is definitely something that other businesses should be looking at bringing forward

"There is great similarity between Oxford and London particularly in terms of housing however the cost of travel is more expensive in London"

Oxford topped the table of the most unaffordable place to live this year because property prices outstrip earnings 19 1 times. Oxford University researchers found.

Mr Smith said, "What we need to do to aid this is to build more affordable housing because unless housing supply is increased much of the higher income will bid up housing prices and rents further"

Cllr Price added the city council has been asking other businesses to adopt the same policies with mixed responses

He said "Some businesses thought of it as a great idea whilst other companies such as hotels were not so keen on it."

Primark to stay in Oxford city centre

JOBS are saved after Primark announced they have found an interim store in Oxford to use between the closure of their existing store and their new store opening as part of the Westgate redevelopment.

Oxford's Westgate Shopping Centre is in the process of a £440 million renovation.

By Loughlan Campbell

The centre is partly shutting at the end of January and fully closing in spring.

Primark, whose store in the shopping centre is set to close on February 13 next year, has now found a temporary store on Queen Street where they will remain until their new bigger store opens with the rest of the new shopping centre in November 2017.

A Primark spokesperson said: "Primark has endeavoured to find an interim solution and is pleased to advise that it has secured a small temporary store on the high street which will open at the start of February.

"The temporary store which will mainly offer a selection of men's and women's products will trade until the new Primark store opens in the redeveloped shopping centre."

Primark is Westgate's biggest shop, employing 193 staff and the Dublin based clothes retailer are still finalising how many staff will be in the interim store.

In October this year the Guardian reported that Primark had been unsuccessful in their search for a new store and that staff had been offered the chance to apply the 201 roles at their Banbury store which opened last month.

City council leader Bob Price said: "This is great news and clearly shows that we have a vibrant shopping experience here in Oxford and that they're trying hard to keep their business afloat in the city.

"It makes sense for them to continue their custom and it also shows the impact that Primark has had for customers here in Oxford."

Professor Jonathan Reynolds of the University of Oxford who specialises in retail marketing said: "This shows the resolve of Primark to keep the continuity of their custom with Oxford shoppers.

"However I don't know if it will do them a great deal of good in the long run as there are big concerns about the business trade in the city due to the constant Roadworks and the shift to online shopping."

More than 100 new shops and 25 restaurants – including a Curzon Cinema – will be part of the new development in Oxpens Road.

A two storey underground car park with between 900 and 1,100 spaces is in the process of being built with the previous car park having been demolished in February this year.

Shooting arrests

ASINGDON: Two more men have been arrested as part of the investigation into the murder of Kerry Reeves in Abingdon last month.

A 45-year old man from Harrow was arrested last Tuesday on suspicion of assisting an offender while a 33 year old man from Oxford was arrested last Wednesday for the same offence and for encouraging/assisting in the commission of murder believing it will be committed.

Both men have been released on bail until December 28.

It comes after Miss Reeves, 26, was shot at a house in Thornhill Walk off Northcourt Road at around 8.20pm on November 3.

She died from her injuries in hospital two days later.

Two men – Billy Johnson, 20, from Ripon Court in Corby, and Charles Noble, 20, from Kempton Avenue in Ealing – were charged with murder on November 11 and are due to appear at Oxford Crown Court on February 8.

Senior investigating officer Det Ch Insp Mike Lynch of the Major Crime Unit said: "I would urge anyone who has specific information about the weapon used in Kerry's murder to contact police immediately.

"It is vital that we recover the weapon to aid our investigation and to safeguard the public."

Dr's charity boxing bout

A DIDCOT BASED doctor and dad of two will be stepping into the ring this Saturday to raise money for a mental health charity.

Psychiatrist Andrew Molodynski, 42, who lives in Wantage and works in Didcot will pull no punches at South Moreton Boxing Club while raising money for Oxfordshire charity Restore.

Dr Molodynski has received the backing of Prime Minister David Cameron who donated a signed bottle of port that will be raffled off to raise cash.

The doctor who works at Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust said: "Doctors are generally opposed to boxing because of the injuries it can cause.

"I decided to do something to get people to realise that mental health affects us all.

"The stigma around these conditions is enormous.

Dr Molodynski, who has been an amateur boxer for around five years will be taking on Gary Summerfield at the event which will feature nine other fights.

Chief executive of Oxford-based Restore, Martin Realey said: "Andrew has been actively involved in our Didcot based Fleet Meadow Recovery Group and has seen the benefits social activities can have on people's mental health.

"Boxing is a sport where no one can hide – it's not like a team game where you can rely on the strength and support of others when you are struggling.

"Restore provide rehabilitation, employment and training support for people suffering schizophrenia bipolar disorder depression and anxiety.

The fight will take place at South Moreton Boxing Club in Hall Farm with doors opening at 6.30pm.

Housing saga end in sight as development approved

PLANS for 190 homes on an old paper mill site in Wolvercote have been called 'perfect' for solving Oxford's housing crisis after they were unanimously approved by councillors on Tuesday night.

The homes were at the centre of a decade-long planning saga which was finally put to a close at a meeting of Oxford City Council's west area planning committee at Oxford Town Hall.

Oxford University submitted the planning application intending to sell the site for developers to build on.

The plans include a lagoon doctor's surgery, office buildings and a community centre.

By Loughlan Campbell

In addition to the homes

John Tanner, Labour city councillor and member of the committee, said: "This site is perfect as it will provide valuable space needed to tackle Oxford's need for housing.

"We know that following a great deal of consultation these plans have now got the backing of residents for the most part."

The plans include a mini-roundabout at the site's entrance by Godstow Road and Mill Road junction which was put in by the University as part of their plans to appease resident's worries about traffic.

However Cllr Tanner says he is satisfied that the transport routes of the site will meet the demands of the nearby residents and not cause too much disruption to the community.

He added: "The university has made it clear that they're not developers and that it's attracted quite a fair bit of interest and I'm hoping they'll stick to the plans that have been laid out."

The university had previously withdrawn their plans for the site early last year after strong opposition from residents over traffic and flooding concerns.

The new plans were resubmitted in September with a flood risk assessment by the Environment Agency finding the site to be at low probability of flooding.

Jean Fooks, county councillor for Wolvercote said: "We're just hoping that all the thoughts that were raised in the consultation regarding the traffic will be taking on board by developers.

"It's going to be a quite large increase in homes but I'm happy with the way the university approached the people of Wolvercote and the chosen developers will need to do the same."

More than 100 letters of objection were submitted to the council against the first planning application and 17 letters of objection were received against the second.

The site on the north west side of the village of Wolvercote had been derelict since Wolvercote Paper Mill was shut by Oxford University Press in 1997 and the mill building was then demolished in 2004.

'Wages should be left for businesses to set'

motion of County Hall stating it is 'necessary for the council to pay its staff the London allowance for the living wage'.

The motion says: "The county council with its living wage policy has established a basic rate per hour but now is the time to accept that costs have been increasing at such a rate and public sector wage rises held down for so long that a London weighting is required if we are to retain the quality of our workforce.

"Taking the London living wage minimum will be recognition that living in the county is on a par with living costs in the capital and that public services in Oxfordshire must be funded at wage levels that reflect London salaries."

But South Oxfordshire District council leader John Cotton said: "It's a nonsense idea for the Green councillor to put this forward, as they don't know anything about running local government. For me the decisions regarding worker pay should not be decided by the Government but by businesses themselves."

The average salary in Oxford is £27,214 according to price-comparison website gocompare.com and the average house price in Oxfordshire is £308,556 according to property site rightmove.co.uk.

Wantage school takes top prizes in public speaking competition

KING Alfred's Academy in Wantage took home top prizes for the third year in a row at the annual Rotary International Youth Speaks competition last month.

The event on Wednesday November 18 at King Alfred's sixth form centre in Portway pitted the academy against Faringdon Community College.

Four teams from the Academy took part.

English teacher and coach Kate Wigley said: "The students across all the teams were a very enthusiastic group and a pleasure to work with.

All the teams did well. It is all really good experience."

Students delivered presentations in front of an audience of their parents and teachers while facing the daunting prospect of a panel of judges.

Presentations were judged on the speaker's ability to present and develop a topic.

The winning intermediate age group (11 to 13 year olds) were Lily Bunting, Lauren Stevenson and Rebecca Spiers with their topic of 'Is Green 2016'.

Also taking home a trophy were the senior team (14 to 17 year olds) made up of Hannah Hayward, Maddie Lowis-Hughes and Clare St George with the topic of 'Mental Health Matters'.

The winners will compete in the district finals in February.

Free parking to stay say council

By Alex Ballinger

A COUNCIL boss has pledged to keep free parking in Vale of White Horse despite warnings from officers that a parking deficit of £700 000 could build up by 2019.

Officers at South Oxfordshire (SODC) and neighbouring Vale of White Horse District Councils warned if parking charges are not increased deficits could rise to £134 000 for SODC and £700 000 for Vale.

Vale of White Horse District Council leader Matthew Barber said Vale would not increase parking fees while South Oxfordshire District Council's leader John Cotton said there may be a modest increase to combat any deficit.

SODC and Vale councils are both set to review their parking policies today and tomorrow respectively.

Mr Barber said: "We won't be increasing the parking fees.

"Council officers recommend options every year to increase the parking fees. We look at it as we're providing a service to people."

Councillor Barber added that the council would accept any estimated increase in parking deficits.

In a report published by Vale council last week ahead of the cabinet meeting on Friday council officer John Beckley said: "If considering just the income and the running costs then the service showed a small surplus income of £32 200.

"However, taking into account other costs associated with parking like depreciation and corporate support costs the table shows that there will be an estimated deficit on the service at the end of 2015/16 of £94,297.

"The estimated cumulative deficit in 2018/19 will be £706 504."

Currently all car parks run by Vale council offer two hours free parking including in Wantage, Abingdon and Faringdon town centres.

Cllr Cotton said: "We may put on a modest increase. Not very much, only about 10p.

"We charge considerably less than neighbouring districts.

"We want the burden of car parks to fall on those using it, not on those paying tax.

"We don't run our car parks for a profit."

SODC offers free parking in some of its car parks, and charges 50p for the first hour in others, meaning it's deficit would be smaller.

A report published by SODC last week also by John Beckley said: "If no changes are made to the level of fees and charges (and assuming levels of usage stay the same) then the car park account will have a projected income of £64 294 in 2015/16 but over the five-year period the account will produce a cumulative deficit of £134 863."

Both council meetings will be held at their joint headquarters in Milton Park.

SODC's is due to take place at 6pm tonight and Vale's is due to be held at 10am tomorrow.

Big Christmas Sing

OXFORD Around 500 primary school pupils from across Oxfordshire joined forces for a charity Christmas concert on Tuesday and yesterday.

The Big Christmas Sing involved 21 primary schools at Oxford Town Hall, in St Aldate's belting out festive songs.

It was organised by Oxfordshire County Council's music service and Christian Aid with money raised donated to the charity.

TVP gypsy review

OXON: More needs to be done to integrate with gypsy communities in the Thames Valley, a police report has advised.

Police published the results of an independent review into Gypsy, Traveller and Roma (GRT) policies on Tuesday.

It said more needs to be done to communicate and encourage police to employ them.

The review was commissioned by Thames Valley Police in June 2014 and findings were published on Tuesday.

It was led by Margaret Greenfields from Buckinghamshire New University, Mark Watson from Cheshire Constabulary and Police Constable Jim Davies of the Gypsy, Roma and Traveller Police Association.

Professor Greenfields said: "TVP has fully accepted the best practice recommendations."

Black friday flops as crowds stay at home

OXFORDSHIRE Shopping centres were quieter than predicted on Black Friday with the future of deals not coaxing people out at the same rate as last year.

Shoppers were pleasantly surprised to find parking and traffic much improved on last year.

Bicester Village pledged not to hold Black Friday sales but its shopping hours were extended.

Steve Hunt, 32, from Worcester was at the outlet centre at around 11am.

He said, "It's not been anywhere near as bad as we were expecting. The traffic was absolutely fine."

By Alex Ballinger

The dad-of-two added, "I hate shopping anyway, that's why I'm stood out here watching the pram. I can't wait to leave already."

Jamie Kennedy, 29, from Witney was also shopping at Bicester Village.

He said, "I was a bit put off because it's Black Friday but it doesn't seem as bad as last year. We're quite pleased.

"We are not here for anything specific. Just to get some Christmas stuff."

Spokesperson for the shopping outlet Miranda Markham said on Friday, "It is currently busy but very manageable.

"Traditionally the final pay day weekend before Christmas is always busy so peak traffic measures are in place."

The first Friday after Thanksgiving sees shops promote sales to kick start Christmas shopping.

It is a fairly new UK trend following the American tradition but UK shoppers spent over £800 million last year and roads around Bicester Village were gridlocked most of the day.

Oxford's Templars Shopping Centre in Cowley was also surprisingly quiet despite some shops advertising Black Friday sales.

Store manager of Intersport DW sports shop Jo Nice said, "Our target is 30% per cent more than a normal Friday.

People were coming in as soon as we opened the door. We didn't know what to expect.

It was very good for the company last year."

TK Maxx also in Templars opened an hour earlier.

Assistant store manager Shawn Dudley said, "It's a difficult one. We're still very amateurish about it. We don't really know what to expect.

"About six people were outside when we opened."

Lee Bowden, 45, from North Hinksey was shopping in the TK Maxx store. He said, "I thought it was going to be bad but it's not around here. Last year was bad. I was out shopping for an iPad but this year seems alright."

Hundreds brave the wind for Head of the River race

ROWERS battled against winds of up to 50mph along the River Thames in Wallingford on Sunday at the annual Head of the River event.

Around 800 spectators watched oars sparring with 263 crews facing off against each other in the water.

Oxford Brookes University Rowing Club were the runaway winners grabbing the spoils in the Division One 10.45am race and in the 1.30pm Division 2 race.

Rowers came from all over the UK, with University of London Boat Club and Newcastle University in the top 10.

Rachael Haycock, who organised it and raced for Wallingford Rowing Club said: "We had our doubts heading into the day if it would go ahead. But only 30 crews pulled out so we went ahead and it proved to be so worthwhile.

She added: "I was in a boat with the other girls and we just decided to grit our teeth and give it a go."

Hospital heating project 'vital' despite six months of Headington roadworks

By Alex Ballinger

CITY bosses have aired concerns of the impact six months of roadworks could have on Headington next year for Oxford's hospitals to install new pipes as part of a £14.8 million energy project.

The plans called the Hospital Energy Project were announced on Monday and would see new boilers installed and hot water pipes laid between the John Radcliffe Hospital in Headley Way and the Churchill Hospital in Churchill Drive.

The 18 month project by Oxfordshire University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust could see six months of roadworks including some closures.

A press conference was held at the John Radcliffe on Monday where local councillors voiced worries.

Oxfordshire county councillor for Headington and Quarry Roz Smith, said: "A lot of residents feel angry about not being informed about this earlier."

City councillor Ruth Wilkinson said: "Parking is a really big issue in Headington. How will residents get to know what arrangements have been made about that?"

The scheme to improve the efficiency of heating the two hospitals aims to save £1.1m.

Director of planning and information at the hospital trust, Andrew Stevens, said: "The longer term benefits will have a great payback.

It is important in terms of the savings but we are also part of the wider community and we wanted to improve our carbon footprint.

"We know it is going to be disruptive and we know its going to be difficult for local residents but we hope the benefits will outweigh that."

Work on the scheme has already begun at the John Radcliffe site.

It is due to be finished by November 2016.

The energy link pipe will run along Woodlands Road, Sandfield Road, London Road, Latimer Road, All Saints Road, Stapleton Road, Old Road ends at Churchill Hospital in Churchill Drive.

Some of these roads would have to be closed for the pipes to be filled and others may be partly shut and controlled by traffic lights.

The trust's senior estates operational maintenance manager Claire Hennessy said: "Improving the infrastructure is vital to patient care. We need to make sure the heating and cooling systems in the hospital are working."

London based contractors Vital Energi is installing the pipes.

Regional director of Vital, Mike Cooke said: "It is very similar to projects we've run elsewhere. This is a very innovative scheme."

Working hours for the project are set to be between 8am and 5.30pm week days although Vital have said they may work weekends if the project falls behind.

Band room named after couple

THE owners of a bookshop in Wantage's Regent Arcade have been celebrated after donating over £10 000 to Wantage Silver Band.

Regent Furniture and Books owners Sue and Phil Mudway donated the proceeds from a bric-a-brac stall in their shop to fund instruments for children to learn music with.

To thank them the band renamed a practice room at their base in Garston Close 'The Mudway Room'.

Bandmaster Eileen Sykes said: "We are so grateful for the continuing generosity and support from the Mudway family."

The couple cut the ribbon at a ceremony on November 28.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which have steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frame as has grown quickly as have owners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Millet feels that it's all about service. Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it is not just about saving people money although that obviously helps.

Many re-bespoke have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times in a industry perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job for customers' requirements and leave their house as clean as a whole. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which in a way is very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Jamie is finding that it's approach is a major factor in her success. The truths that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Jamie a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help.

Group calls for help in bid to stop pool demolition

A COMMUNITY group is calling on residents to help halt the demolition of Temple Cowley Pools which could be knocked down later this month.

Developers Catalyst Housing want to demolish the site in Temple Road to build a mix of 48 houses and flats on the land.

Agents Savills submitted a notification of intentions to demolish the site to Oxford City Council in October.

A proposal to keep the pools and its leisure centre open was turned down by the city council's City Executive Board last December.

Community group Save Temple Cowley Pools (Save TCP) opposed the plans and have launched a fresh plea for residents to write to the city council to encourage them to halt the demolition.

Save TCP claim Catalyst have told them that the demolition could take place this month if the city council decide whether or not approval is required for the demolition.

A statement from Save TCP said: "We don't think it makes sense to demolish an Asset of Community Value when the planning application to replace it just with housing hasn't even been submitted, let alone approved.

"If the demolition goes ahead the council will deliberately be destroying the only public diving pool in the county, along with the pool and other facilities, leaving an area with nothing.

Since the notification of intentions was submitted 24 objections have been sent in by residents.

Pervert with nearly 25,000 images of children is jailed

By Loughlan Campbell

Court to three years imprisonment, half of which is to be served on licence

A PERVERT from Oxford with almost 25,000 indecent images of children stored on his computer was jailed for 18 months on Monday.

Wai Yin Tse of Cromwell Way in Kidlington interrupted the judge from the dock as he was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court to three years imprisonment, half of which is to be served on licence.

Judge Patrick Eccles said: "The images you shared over the course of 22 months included a huge number of indecent images of children just short of 25,000 images in total.

"Some of these images were of very young children and some seemed to be in discernible pain."

At this point, Yin Tse said: "I would not want to see any children in pain."

The 43-year old was convicted by a unanimous jury of nine charges on September 29 after a four-day trial.

He was charged on November 15 last year for seven counts of making indecent photographs of children, one count of attempting to make indecent photographs of children and one count of possessing extreme pornographic videos.

The counts included making 24,896 indecent photos of children.

Judge Eccles also stated the images would have been easily accessible for anyone to share and pointed towards the fact that Yin Tse lived with his sister and his three-year old niece, who would have had access to the computer.

Thames Valley Police Detective Constable Emma Thompson said: "I am pleased that Tse has been given this sentence today. Thames Valley Police always investigates crimes of this nature thoroughly and today's conviction is the result of some hard work by our investigation team."

During the sentencing, Judge Eccles gave Yin Tse a sexual harm prevention order to be in place for 10 years and ordered him to be listed on the sexual offender's register for life.

The judge said the fact that the offender shared the images he stored through file sharing websites was a "significant feature" in regards to the sentencing as it meant the images he shared were in the public domain for others to share.

Yin Tse was arrested by police on August 30 in 2013.

The offences were between November 29 2011, and August 30 2013.

Police seized his computer and external storage devices and found tens of thousands of indecent photographs and videos of children.

The computer is set to be destroyed after family photos are recovered.

Brain injury sufferer who is supported by charity bids to save it from cuts

A DIDCOT man who survived major brain surgery has launched a plea to halt cuts to the charity which supports him through recovery.

Andrew Baker, 27, has been helped by brain trauma charity Headway Oxford for three and a half years with treatments including physiotherapy.

He suffered a pre-natal brain injury at birth and could not talk until he was five years old, before another head injury at primary school left him needing surgery.

He said: "It would be absolutely devastating if they had to close due to these cuts, not just as they provide my services but the fact is that Headway is a lifeline for so many people under its care."

Kennington-based Headway Oxford is among the Oxfordshire charities and services under threat from proposed cuts from Oxfordshire County Council who are looking to save around £50m on top of £292m by 2018.

Mr Baker set up his own fundraising charity Play2Give in 2007 and works in Sainsbury's in Didcot's Orchard Centre.

He added: "Headway is uniquely special in the services it provides."

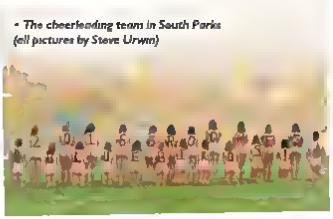
Cheerleaders embrace naked acrobatic antics for calendar



• The cheerleading team in South Parks (all pictures by Steve Urwin)

• Jessica Denning showing off her skills

AN Oxford Brookes University cheerleading team tackled nude gymnastics for a photoshoot to launch a 2016 calendar for the first time.

The Oxford Brookes Bluebirds calendar is to be released next week after two months of work.

The women and men strut their skills doing the splits on the mantlepiece of Headington Hill Hall, balancing acts in the beer garden of Cowley Retreat and posing in South Parks in front of Oxford's skyline.

The team's head of fundraising Georgia Smith, 20, said: "It was so much fun. It really brought the team together."

The Oxford Brookes Bluebirds contacted an Oxford photographer in October to pitch their idea of a calendar to fundraise for the team.

The squad needs to raise money to rent their practice room and pay for their coach.

Marston-based freelance photographer Steve Urwin said: "I've never done anything like this before. We've done some very interesting things with the locations.

"We wanted it to be about Oxford but also to show off their cheerleading as well."

By Alex Ballinger

Mr Urwin is a former cheer leader for the club.

The 30-year old added: "The team doesn't get as much attention as something like rugby."

Miss Smith, who is in her third year of studying economics, politics and international relations at Oxford Brookes, it had taken a lot of work but the team are looking forward to seeing the finished product.

She added: "We needed a way to raise money because we're completely underfunded. It had been talked about before but we just decided to do it.

Everyone was on board."

The calendar will be officially launched next Thursday and 10 per cent of proceeds will go to charity ParaCheer International, which promotes cheerleading for people with disabilities.

It will be available via brookescheerleaders.bigcartel.com.

Last month Oxford University women's and men's rugby team also ditched their kit and took to the pitch in their own nude calendar to raise money for charity.

Shooting centre fined over noise

THE owner of a Stadhampton hotel has been fined £1 500 after more than 40 complaints were made to South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) about noise from clay pigeon shooting.

Jason Hunt, 51, of Bear Lane in Stadhampton, owns the Crazy Bear Hotel of the same address.

He pleaded guilty to two breaches of a noise abatement notice at Oxford Magistrates' Court on November 25.

The abatement notice was issued in January last year after complaints about noise from shooting held at the hotel since October 2013.

SODC cabinet member for waste, food safety and environmental health, Tony Harbour, said: "We are very supportive of any business wishing to diversify and set up activities that attract more customers. However they must not be to the detriment of the local area or impact those living near by."

After the notice was issued, acoustic shelters were built at the site but more complaints were received.

Following Hunt's failure to comply, SODC prosecuted him for the breaches.

Hunt pleaded not guilty in 2014 but later changed his plea. He was fined £750 for each breach of the notice, and ordered to pay a victim surcharge of £75 and £1 000 in costs.

Veteran map maker celebrated in county exhibition

By Alex Ballinger

AN OXFORD mapmaker who has been drawing maps for 50 years has had his work recognised by county leaders in a new exhibition.

Alun Jones, who celebrated his 88th birthday on Saturday, still draws maps by hand and has worked with the Campaign to Protect Rural England and the Oxford Preservation Trust to create around 90 maps in his lifetime.

Some of his work is now on display in Oxford's County Hall in New Road after an exhibition was opened by Oxfordshire County Council chairman John Sanders on Friday.

Alun Jones drawing one of his maps

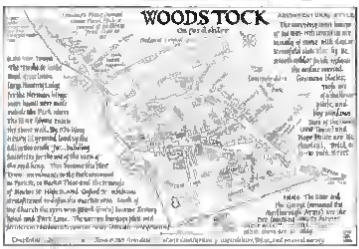
Mr Jones, who lives in Marston, said: "It's been like a career and a passion for me. I've always done the maps for free.

"I do enjoy it. The maps aren't just meant to be an exhibition. I draw them to be used. They're not just pieces of art."

The exhibition includes hand drawn maps of Oxfordshire's historic locations including towns, village, historic houses and gardens and even long distance walks.

Mr Jones, a retired lecturer, has lived in Oxford since 1941 when he attended the University of Oxford's Lincoln College.

He originally gained his map making, or cartography, skills while studying classical archaeology.



A map of Woodstock by Mr Jones

The exhibition was arranged by Mr Jones's friend Chris Hawgood who said: "I've known Alun for 45 years and he is one of the best friends a person could ask for.

"The maps Alun has drawn are important. They're works of art.

"It's a gift to the community and to Oxfordshire. In my opinion he doesn't get enough credit."

Discussions are underway to preserve the collection at either the Oxford University's Bodleian Library or the Oxfordshire History Centre in Cowley.

Maps librarian at the Bodleian Library, Nick Millis, said at the opening of the exhibition: "Most map making is done on the computer these days, but Alun doesn't do that.

"He draws them by hand. They're unique."

The maps will be on show in County Hall's meeting room corridor until February 28.

Police bosses 'delighted' at Osborne's cuts U-turn in wake of Paris terror

By Alex Ballinger

THAMES Valley Police leaders say they are delighted the Government have abandoned planned cuts to police budgets next year.

The Conservative leadership was expected to slash police funding for frontline services, but Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne last Wednesday announced a major U-turn during his Autumn Statement.

Following the Paris terror attacks in which 130 people died on November 13 as well as security threats in Belgium and across Europe this month, Mr Osborne announced in Parliament last Wednesday no cuts would be made to policing over the next year.

Thames Valley Police and Crime Commissioner Anthony Stansfeld said: "I am absolutely delighted that the very large cuts that were planned for policing have not gone ahead.

"I am pleased that senior politicians have listened and the adverse impact of the cuts has been recognised."

Chief Constable Francis Habgood previously said he was unsure how significant cuts would impact Oxfordshire's policing and it was unclear how much would be taken from the police budget.

He added Thames Valley Police have saved £58 million in total over the last four years and £13m in 2015.

Ch Con Habgood said: "I am pleased to hear that the Chancellor has acknowledged the need to protect police services by deciding not to make further cuts to police budgets in the next year.

"Today is a good day for our communities and Thames Valley Police but we must also remember that we are still in times of austerity and we will continue to have some difficult choices to make about how allocate our resources according to local priorities.

"We will continue to ensure that we maximise every opportunity to prevent crime, protect the public and bring offenders to justice."

After gunmen and suicide bombers targeted venues across Paris, Prime Minister David Cameron also announced plans boosting funding for UK security services to hire 1,900 extra security and intelligence staff.

Mr Osborne said: "The government will protect overall police spending in real terms over the spending review period.

"This will provide funding to maintain overall police force budgets at current cash levels.

"The Government is taking steps to enable police officers to spend more time fighting crime."

Chief Constable Francis Habgood

Broadband rollout

OXON: More than 4,600 businesses and homes are set to benefit from a £5.58 million superfast broadband scheme.

The money will see Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) and BT's Better Broadband for Oxfordshire expanded.

The funding from Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP), South East Midlands LEP, Cherwell District Council, OCC, the Government's Broadband Delivery UK programme and BT was announced last Wednesday.

CCTV

OXFORD: A CCTV image was released last week of a man police would like to speak to about an assault in Oxford city centre on Sunday September 20.

At around 1.30am two men left the Bell and Compass pub in New Road and were having a conversation when one elbowed the other in the face.

The man, in his fifties, was knocked back into a wall as a result of the blow.

The victim was taken to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital and was later discharged.

Osborne's tax hike 'not likely to save services'

A RISE in council tax of almost four per cent is unlikely to save vital Oxfordshire services, a councillor has called.

During Chancellor George Osborne's Autumn Statement in the Houses of Parliament last Wednesday he announced local government authorities will be allowed to hike council tax by two per cent above the 1.8 per cent already permitted.

For the cheapest band A property in Oxford this could mean a 3.9 per cent rise of about £44 from £1,112.27 to £1,161.85.

And the extra cash created would have to be spent on adult social care services.

Mr Osborne said: "The truth we need to confront is this: many local authorities are not going to be able to meet growing social care needs unless they have new sources of funding. That, in the end, comes from the taxpayer.

"So in future those local authorities who are responsible for social care will be able to levy a new social care precept of up to two per cent on council tax."

Amid £342 million of cuts Oxfordshire County Council has to make by 2020 independent councillor Lynda Atkins warned even four per cent may not be enough.

Cllr Atkins said: "It seems very unlikely we would be able to protect these services with a four per cent increase so we're still calling for a 10 per cent increase which will be vital to save our services."

In October the Guardian revealed independent councillors including Cllr Atkins called for a referendum on whether to raise council tax by 10 to 15 per cent.

And last month Oxfordshire County Council voted in favour of lobbying central Government for a referendum to hike council tax by a percentage not yet decided.

But holding a referendum would cost £60,000 to £300,000.

WIN tickets to see Harlequinade in London's West End

THE first season of the Kenneth Branagh Theatre Company is now open, starting with a unique Terence Rattigan double bill, as Zoe Wanamaker appears alongside Kenneth Branagh in the uproarious comic gem Harlequinade following her performance of the powerfully atmospheric one-woman play All On Her Own.

Harlequinade Rattigan's backstage farce is a comic treat and focuses on the author's first love – the theatre. It pokes fun at a fictional acting company whose intrigues and dalliances are revealed with increasingly calamitous consequences.

In a dramatic contrast All On Her Own is both heart-breaking and sinister. Wanamaker gives a tour de force performance as Rosemary who is alone at midnight in London with a dangerous secret. Also starring Miranda Raison, Tom Bateman, John Shrapnel and Jessie Buckley.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column each row and each of the nine 3×3 sub grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes" "blocks" "regions" or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid which for a well posed puzzle has a unique solution

Laughing Master: Stephen K Amos

GET set to leave Didcot's Cornerstone Arts Centre with sore sides after a night of comedy by Stephen K Amos on Saturday December 5

The award winning comic arrives on his 'Laughing Master' tour

And as the name suggests Stephen has one mission

"Ultimately, my main focus is that they've got to laugh," he said

"The people who come to my shows are, generally speaking, the converted, so there's no point in me just telling them about race and politics and getting all this applause that's just pointless

"So I'm giving them the jokes and getting it down to a very basic level

Think back to Martin Luther King and his great speech about having a dream I've always thought how the world might be a different place if the night before that speech he had eaten some cheese

'So it's all about keeping it up and down, making a point but keeping the laughter flowing."

Stephen was on his way to becoming a barrister before one night in New York changed his life

A young lady he had met suggested his quick wit should be heard by a packed audience rather than one or two

By James Richings

Stephen's popularity grew alongside his collection of comedy awards

Now a familiar face in the comedy circuit here in the UK Stephen is as busy off stage as he is on working as a writer presenter and actor as well as a comic

"I've been doing this for a while now and I've got so many shows worth of material inside my head already that sometimes it's like a clown fight up there," he said.

"But every year I concentrate on one show and make sure I have it down before the premiere

"I love doing a brand new show every year because it lets me travel all over the country and writing new material every year keeps those clowns busy

"This job has enabled me to travel all over the world and for that I'm truly thankful"

Saturday's show will be the second time Stephen will have performed at the Cornerstone.

The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £14

It is suitable for over 18s

We would like to invite you to take part in our annual Lights of Love event. From Saturday, 12th December 2015, a Christmas Tree will glow with hundreds of tiny lights shining in memory of loved ones everywhere.
Messages will be attached to the lights, and the tree will be lit at a short service, and will shine all over the Christmas period. This year you can also add a message to our digital Lights of Love tree on our website, where messages will shine as lights on the tree over Christmas.
If you would like to dedicate a light and take part in the Lights of Love appeal, please contact the Fundraising Office on 01865 857007 or mail@sobellhospice.org.uk to request a pack, or visit our website www.sobellhouse.org

SOBELL HOUSE LIGHTS OF LOVE

Every Christmas, Sobell House Hospice has a giant Lights of Love Tree erected at the Churchill Hospital covered in lights in memory of loved ones who are no longer with us. This year, we will once again be holding a memorial service and lighting the tree, which will take place on Saturday 12th December at 3.30 pm. A short service will be held near to the tree and guests will have an opportunity to view the Books of Remembrance.

Hospice Fundraiser, Lindsay Manifold says 'This event is a major fundraiser for the Hospice, but it is also our opportunity to give some comfort to families who wish to remember a loved one over the Christmas period. We have many families who take part year after year, and we know it becomes part of their Christmas and helps them to feel they have kept their family members or friends in their thoughts' Our supporter, Georgina said 'Every year since my mother died I have come to the Lights of Love service. I love being here because I feel close to her and the service is simple and beautiful.'

There are usually over 1,000 messages on the tree, and the event last year raised over £26,000 to support the Hospice. The Lights of Love is open to everyone, not just for those who have lost someone at Sobell House, so anyone who wishes to take part, and have a light shining over the Christmas period, can contact the Sobell House Fundraising Office on 01865 857007 to find out more information, or visit our website www.sobellhouse.org

WHEN HEARING MATTERS

So this is Christmas!

CHRISTMAS comes early to Oxford with action packed family fun show 'So This is Christmas!' on Sunday December 6.

By James Richings

Starring former Hollyoaks actress Gemma Merna and 90s pop star Kavana, the New Theatre show arrives in George Street venue as part of a one-month tour across the UK to get the country into the Christmas spirit by performing some of the most popular Christmas songs of all time.

And that is something Gemma who played Carmel Valentine on the popular soap is looking forward to.

"Everyone on the night can expect lots of fun, great songs and a feel-good festive show that they can join in with and sing along to," the 31-year-old told the Guardian.

• Gemma Merna and Kavana

"If I had to choose my favourite Christmas song, it would be 'Merry Christmas Everyone', which was the UK Christmas Number One in 1985 and was a monster hit for Shakin' Stevens.

"Everyone can join in and have fun with this show!"

After making her Hollyoaks debut in 2006, Gemma became a regular face on TV staying on the Chester-based soap for eight years, before leaving the programme last November.

Guest appearances on shows such as 'Splash!', 'Virtually Famous' and a celebrity version of 'The Chase' have been keeping the performer busy for the past 12 months.

Joining her on stage will be Kavana, who achieved eight top 40 hits from 1998 to 1999.

"After so many years in Hollyoaks, this show is taking me back to my roots on stage and I just love it," Gemma added.

"The biggest challenge has probably been me getting the whole show in my brain.

"One of the best things about performing live is hearing applause and laughter – you can't beat it.

"When you've worked in TV for many years it's great to perform to real people rather than a camera lens."

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost from £18.90 to £31.40.

• Riff Raff (left to right) Steve Painter, Steve Laurie and Nick Bevan

Beware of the Riff Raff

THREE PIECE covers group Riff Raff will deal out classic rock and funky pop when they perform in Witney's New Inn on Saturday December 5.

Consisting of Steve Painter (guitar and vocals), Steve Laurie (drums and vocals) and Nick Bevan (bass and vocals), the three friends are known for performing a wide range of hits from artists that you wouldn't usually name in the same sentence.

Guitarist Steve believes that's part of the reason they've found fans across the south.

"We might start the night off with some Deep Purple, Tate and Queen but by the end we'll have covered Michael Jackson, Chic and Go West. That's why a lot of people seem to like us," Steve told the Guardian.

"Also, we've all been playing and gigging since we were teenagers.

"And it's true that whatever grabs you at that age stays with you for a long time. The shows we give are a reflection of what we love to do. It's all about the music."

A regular name in pubs where the group is from in Newbury, the three-some is making their way across the south of England to be in more music enthusiasts as an audience to their energetic shows.

"Some people think we're an AC/DC tribute band because of their song of the same name – we're not," Steve joked.

"We've chosen to label ourselves as the underclass – the dregs.

"It doesn't pay to get be too arrogant in this business."

The free gig starts at 9pm.

Fotheringay folk is back

FOTHERINGAY will present a night of sophisticated folk music at Nettlebed Folk Club near Wallingford on Monday December 7

The group was originally set up by the late Sandy Denny in 1970 but Sandy Trevor Lucas, Gerry Conway Jerry Donahue and Pat Donaldson disbanded after a year when Sandy's solo career took off

It gave a chance for each of them to enjoy success

But in 2007, original member Jerry Donahue decided the time was right to revive Fotheringay and release new material

In 2008 as the newly reformed band launched their first release in 38 years with an album called 'Fotheringay 2

'Everyone will be able to expect a wonderful revisit to a segment of Sandy Denny's music that's not been heard live for 45 years' Jerry told the Guardian

"It feels good to know that we are playing music that our audiences enjoy and of course, the enthusiastic responses we've been getting are most rewarding"

By James Richings

From the original line-up Jerry Gerry and Pat are the only surviving members with Kathryn Roberts (best known for working with folk musician Seth Lakeman) and PJ Wright adding in the extras as the new faces of the group stepping in for the late Sandy Denny and Trevor Lucas respectively

And the current line up has been bolstered with a sixth member in Sally Barker who found fame by finishing joint second on TV talent show 'The Voice' last year

She joined the group in the summer to form the Fotheringay set to take the stage in Nettlebed to kick-start next week

The gig, in High Street, starts at 8pm and costs £20

Jerry added, "When I came along to the first rehearsal at the start of 1970 I hadn't planned to join the group

"I was already in a band I was very happy with but it took just one number (the very first one) to make me instantly change my mind"

Rebel Without a Clue, the Jester's Tale

'Rebel Without a Clue, the Jester's Tale' by Roger Crawford tells the story of how Roger became embroiled in the Family Court system in Oxford in a battle to see his only child, and lost, leading him to protest on various roofs and stand for election in 2010 with his trademark Court Jester outfit

An entertaining journey through his life, with many laugh-out loud moments which contrast with the pathos of losing all contact with his daughter and his advice for others who may be in a similar position

Pull this Christmas Cracker! Isla says this book is a 'must read' and would make a great Christmas gift for anyone with a sense of humour. Available on Amazon at £8-99 and all good (and some not-so-good) bookshops.

Didcot cleaved as fiery Bishops net five in rout

By Loughlan Campbell

DIDCOT Town have been through a mixed week of fortunes after their impressive 5-1 over Larkhall Athletic was countered in a 5-0 loss at Bishops Cleeve on Tuesday night.

Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy's men have experienced a turbulent run of form as of late, with this Diddy securing big wins before falling straight after.

Didcot started the encounter firmly entrenched in mid-table of the Division One South & West league, facing off against a side that they beat 5-1 back in August in the reverse fixture.

The Railwaymen started off on the forefront and kept Cleeve keeper Matt Wieczorek fairly busy in the opening exchanges.

The defence was stocked up and Georgs Jeacock, a loan signing from Oxford United, was unable to create much impact in the final third for Didcot.

The home side managed to get themselves back into the game as Kirk Layton headed wide just before the interval.

However, right on the whistle the game sparked to life as Kevin Slack whipped in a free kick into the bottom right hand corner.

The second half saw Cleeve spark to life and Didcot were pulled back on the sword after Ed Major made it two on the hour mark.

It was then three for the home side shortly afterwards on 65 minutes with Jack Cross across sailing into the corner from the far post.

Harlie Price then added a fourth for the Cleeve from a corner kick inside the final ten minutes before Layton got his second of the day in the 89th minute to complete the rout.

Didcot lie in 12th in the table twelve points off the promotion places with two games in hand on most of the teams in front of them.

Up next for the Diddy is a trip to winless Bashley who have no points and have already conceded 89 goals this season.

They follow that trip with a home league tie against Bridgwater Town who are also in the relegation zone in a series of fixtures for Diddy to hopefully get their league campaign on track for the side.

Richmond test Blues ahead of varsity game

AHEAD of Oxford University RFC's varsity game against Cambridge next Thursday they failed to beat a strong Richmond side at Iffley Road on Sunday.

Richmond were first over the line after just three minutes with Jamie Thompson crashing over after a sustained period of pressure on the Oxford backs.

Full-back Tom Platt hit the post with the conversion before Oxford hit back straight away after a chip from George Cullen that he managed to chase down.

He failed his conversion and 15 minutes later Thompson grabbed his second of the afternoon for Richmond.

Platt added the extras and was then instrumental in the third try as he charged down a clearing kick and Jamie Gibbs pounced on to score out wide.

After the interval Thompson completed his hat-trick from another catch and drive but Platt couldn't convert.

Oxford then hit two tries in the final quarter with Jacob Goss going over and then Basil Strang crossed over for the Blues and added the extras himself.

The Blues are set to face Cambridge at Twickenham on December 10.

Millers suffer title blow in another defeat for Gee's side

NORTH Leigh fell to fifth in the table following their 2-1 defeat to promotion challengers Evesham United at Eynsham Park on Saturday.

The result means it's four games without a win for the Millers who have now lost two games on the spin.

Evesham started well and James Foster had to make a brilliant save from Clayton Green in the first few minutes.

Adam Mann then went narrowly close for United with the Millers really struggling to get back into the game.

The opener came on 10 minutes after Lance Smith headed past Foster from a corner.

Leigh were then fortunate with their goal which came on 17 minutes after Morgan Williams' shot was deflected off skipper Matt Sysum's foot and it trickled into the net.

Elliot Osborne Ricketts was then subbed off for Jon Else at half time and Evesham responded with grabbing their second goal on the hour mark.

Lance Smith played the ball into Mann on the right edge of the box, who hit his shot from 8 yards past Foster.

Leigh battled to find themselves a way back into the game but had to settle for the defeat as they strive to rectify their alarming slip in form.

Hylton the man as United climb to top

DANNY Hylton's second half goal sent Oxford United top of League Two on Saturday in an enticing tussle at Hartlepool United.

The entertaining encounter was fast and furious in the first half with debutant Chris Maguire making an impression for the U's.

The 25-year-old on loan Rotherham forward had a shot from 25 yards deflected wide and was a constant threat to Hartlepool's defence throughout the afternoon.

The home side's Nicky Featherstone thumped wide of Benjy Buchel, who continued his stint in goal on 16 minutes before Jake Gray fired wide of the bar shortly afterwards.

Alex MacDonald drilled a shot low into the side netting a minute later and Liam Sercombe nearly gave United the lead after he barged into the box and got a foot to Patrick Hoban's effort.

Buchel then had to dive down deep to prevent a Rhys Oates header from sneaking into the net for a goalless score at the interval.

By Loughlan Campbell

Maguire then tested Trevor Carson early on in the second half with a thumping effort before Hartlepool's Mikael Mandron was denied after Buchel rushed out to block the effort away.

United then roared into life with Hoban dragging an effort wide of the right hand post on 65 minutes before MacDonald fired a free kick at the wall on 68 minutes.

Just two minutes later Hylton got the ball in the net after the U's countered from a Hartlepool corner and MacDonald clipped the ball in to Hylton who had come on for Maguire to plant the ball past Carson.

Liam Sercombe then went close on with ten minutes remaining as Carson managed to get hands to the effort to turn it around the post.

In the end United managed to hold on to lift themselves top of the table for the first time this season five points clear of the play-off places with the U's on 49 points.

Sport Bites

Late goal defeat

HOCKEY. Oxford Hockey Club's ladies 1st team were defeated 2-1 by Brighton in a close contest in which they conceded through a last minute penalty corner.

The 2nd team were in form with the squad beating Sonning 1-0 in a difficult game with Meg Scott grabbing the goal.

Meanwhile, the men's 1st team were unable to handle Wycombe who won the contest 3-0.

Non-league round-up

FOOTBALL. Kidlington were unluckily defeated 4-3 at home by Flackwell Heath in the third round of the Perpetua Press Floodlit Cup 3rd round on Tuesday.

In the Hellenic League Premier Ardley United were defeated 1-0 at Ascot United.

However, Milton United ran riot at the Heights in a 5-0 win over basement boys Wokingham & Emmbrook on Saturday.

Double drubbings

ICE HOCKEY. Oxford City Stars were comprehensively dismantled over the weekend in two drubbings in the NIHL South Division 1.

First up on Saturday they were defeated 7-4 by the London Raiders in a trip down to London.

A day later they entertained Streatham Redskins at Oxpens

Second win for Wantage boss

IT was two wins in two for Stuart Cattell's Wantage Town side after they held on to beat Slimbridge 2-1 on Saturday.

In wintry conditions the two sides faced off and Cattell's side got off to the best possible start with star forward Ben Whitehead striking the ball home from outside the box on two minutes.

The Swans looked to hit back and could have found an equaliser with four attempts blasted at the Freds' goal in the space of 15 minutes.

The woodwork was struck twice in that period before both teams just looked to keep hold of the ball.

The second goal for the Freds came in miraculous circumstances as Whitehead's corner was guided into the far corner of the net.

The conditions became tricky and although Wantage had a fair share of luck in the scoring of their second goal they had no luck towards the end of the second half as the Swans grabbed a penalty in the 89th minute.

The ball sailed into the net but Wantage managed to hold on to secure their second consecutive win.

City survive FA Trophy scare

A BRACE from Marlon Jackson helped Oxford City come from behind to beat Marlow 4-3 in the third qualifying round of the FA Trophy on Saturday.

Marlow of the Southern League Division One South and West were fired up for the clash and twice took the lead in the contest.

Marcus Mealing stunned the home support on three minutes after he put the away side in front before Bradley Bubb equalised on 19 minutes with a 30-yard effort.

City then moved to cool fans' fears with Reece Fleal grabbing on to a Luke Coulson cross to give them the lead.

However Marlow soon struck back when Jordace Holder Spooner equalised just before half time.

The visitors then went in front for the second time with Mealing slotting in his second of the day past Laurie Walker.

Jackson was then brought on and Kynan Isaac's long range effort then levelled up the score on the hour mark.

Following their equaliser, the Blues took control of the game and Jackson made it 4-3 four minutes later with Bubb adding a fifth on 70 minutes.

Six minutes from time saw Oxford polish the game off as Jackson slotted in to wrap up the scoring for the afternoon.

United to be top of the Xmas tree?

By Loughlan Campbell

COMMENT There is an aura of destiny about Oxford United this season.

The club have somehow dragged themselves from a mid table side that were unerringly close to the relegation zone last season to a side that could top the table at Christmas.

Michael Appleton took the reins last July and a year and a half later the situation could not be more different.

When the former Preston midfielder took over from Gary Waddock, United began last season with four consecutive defeats.

It's a different outlook this season all together with the club only losing twice in 32 games in a run that stretches back to the end of last season.

There's vibrancy with the player's movement and a dialogue with how the U's move the ball that reeks of confidence.

Whether it's Appleton firing the boys up in the changing rooms and on the training pitch or if the confidence is naturally growing as the season goes on there is a tangible sense of hope amongst United fans.

The stands are electric at times and whenever Kemar Roofe, Callum O'Dowda or Danny Hylton gets on the ball an aura of expectancy dazes over the Grenoble Road crowd.

They want goals and Oxford have delivered in spades so far this season scoring 31 goals with Kemar Roofe and Liam Sercombe becoming linchpins in the side, scoring eight and seven goals apiece.

Up front it hasn't been as prolific but Patrick Hoban has slowly weaved his way into form with a couple of goals and winger Alex MacDonald continues to be a rampant menace to defenders down the wing.

The only thing that will worry United fans is the depth of the squad.

Can this team hold on until May and go without any injuries to its key players will be the defining question of Appleton's second season in charge.

With Jake Wright expected to be back in the squad for Forest Green Rovers in the FA Cup Second Round tie, United's defence will have some toughening up but its fragility has to be rectified by Appleton in January for it to no longer remain a concern for Appleton and for the fans.

Forest Green are an ambitious side that are pushing to get into the Football League at the top of the National Conference.

Any slip up's would be sure to cut at the pride of the pumped up Yellows however just one more win for the U's and they could have a big Premier League side heading out on to the Kassam Stadium pitch in the New Year, which would give United fans maybe one more reason to have something to shout about.
